"And for your Lord, be patient"
For Your sake, I should keep going
Only for You, should I be patient.
My broken and heavy heart,
You will put together.
My shattered soul,
You will please.

اللهم أشكو إليك ضعف قوتي ، وقلة حيلتي ، وهواني على الناس

I complain to you of my weakness,
I moan to you about my inadequacy.
There is only one direction,
Towards you, it is.

As I watch the brightness of the sun diminish,
I watch it go down,

I remember that You are the one that will,
Give it the power to rise up once again,
Brighter, larger, more radiant.

After every dark night,
You send a clear day.
After every heavy storm,
You send peace and serenity.

After every downpour,
You make beautiful flowers bloom.

I know that if I am patient for Your sake,
You will make my dark days bright,
You will turn my wounds into flowers,
You will change my weakness into strength.

For you,
Only for you,
I shall continue to endure
